

Collaborative poem created by students from Greece, Poland, Spain & Croatia
(Under the Sea! eTwinning Project)

'Little voices, Big dreams for a better world'

1st verse

Who shall we send this poem to?
Who would like to listen?
Who is willing to help?
Why is there so much pain in the world?
Why are we letting people die?
Why peace on Earth is so important?
Can we send this message to the world?

2nd verse

I am young but I've got a voice.
I am not a leader but I have my own opinion.
I'm little but this makes me very sad.
I maybe young but if we all join in, we can help.
I am a teenager but I have a choice.
I have the right to speak out!
I've got the power to speak my own words!
I am small but I am strong!

3rd verse

War is catastrophic.
War is horrible and unnecessary.
It hurts...
War isn't a solution to anything, but if we talk, we can solve more.
Otherwise we will just destroy our world
War is so ugly for the whole world!
It hasn't got mercy nor sympathy!
It has to stop!

4th verse

Peace on the other hand is feeling safe.
Peace is the most wonderful thing in the universe.
Peace is the only light in difficult moments.
It means having problems but being able to solve them.
Peace is the only solution.
Peace can bring us happiness and friendship.
When there is peace we feel safe.
But peace isn't for granted.

5th verse

If I were older, I would take some action.
If I were older, I would do everything to stop the war.
I would want to see the problems that cause war.
If I were older, I would be a police officer and save people.
If I were older, I would be a soldier and fight for good people.
If I were older, I would be a firefighter and keep people`s houses safe.
If I were older, I would be a doctor and heal people`s pain.
If I were older I would protect peace on Earth to my last breath.
If I were older, I wouldn't give up

6th verse

I dream of a happy, beautiful, peaceful world with blue seas and crystal clear waters
where humans take care of the environment
where people protect animals where sea creatures are so various
and can swim happily and freely in the oceans
where animals are not in danger
where kids can play safe and sound
where houses are not bombarded where humans love each other
where our hearts stay together forever
where our hearts are free.

7th verse

I want a world without suffering
a world without safety is like a broken heart
a world without war means that humans are not evil.
The world is beautiful and magical without war.
I want a world without hatred
without violence, without pain
without wars.

Where our little voices can be heard
for a better world.